Dear Name and Name,

At the St. Aidan's ministry fair yesterday we celebrated our stewardship of one another, our church, and the world around us. If you completed a ministry card, thank you!

The Friendship Bread dough we received is a symbol of the living, growing nature of our stewardship. It is our hope you will allow the dough to grow, bake it, and bring a loaf of Friendship Bread to church on November 6, which is the day of our stewardship in-gathering. Our loaves will be blessed during the 10 a.m. service and donated to the St. Paul's food pantry.

There is great power in the fact that our small lumps of dough will ultimately feed scores of adults and children. This power is not derivative but comes directly from our response to God's love. Every moment, every dollar, and every ounce of energy we offer in service to another literally nourishes a body, mind, and soul.

We ask that you consider how you can support our ministries this year. As you do so, keep in mind all the people we touch as a community. The vast majority are unknown to us and often unseen, but none is unloved. Our stewardship ensures this is so. Like our bread dough, this love will grow and feed even more people in coming months and years with your help.

Sincerely,

Stewardship Committee Names

P.S. Please bring the enclosed card with you to church on November 6 for our in-gathering. If you prefer, feel free to mail the card to the church.
